medley this makes! Sherman's arrangement made the whole policy uniform and consistent.

He extended the terms to all the people, as well as to the men in arms, and guaranteed protection to the persons and property of all, as far as it was in the power of the Executive, without interfering with the legislative or judicial departments of the Government.

Now, we should like to know how, after granting immunity to armed men, others shall be molested in person or property. We do not know what course is to be pursued, but it seems to us that if armed men are exempted. United States, consistency and propriety will a shall excuse the rest. He has become a perfect terror to the returned rebel soldiers and they are getting rid of their uniforms or leaving the city as fast as possible.

A correspondent of the Ohio State Journal, in writing to that paper some time since, used the following language:

I like the spirit of the Major in command of the Sixtieth Ohio. When in his presence the question was presumptuously asked, "Shall we eventually have to compromise?" He turned with a withering look and said, "I entered this campaign with over eight hundred men; to-day I can muster one hundred and ninety-two, and I tell you that it the Presi-dett HINTS even at 'compromise,' THERE ARE ONE HUNDRED AND NINETY-TWO ASSASSIGS IN MY COMMAND READY TO MARCH EXISTRAL TO MARCH, solitary and alone, TO THE WHITE HOUSE? We wish our friends at home had this spirit—tis the spirit of the Federal army, who bear the burden.

WM. C. CLEARY,-This individual, for whose arrest a reward of $10,000 is offered by the Government, was a resident of Cynthiana Harrison county, Kentucky, at the commence ment of the rebellion. He is a lawyer by proession, and represented Harrison county in the lower branch of the Kentucky Legislature in 1860. He left Cynthiana in 1861 and went to Richmond, where for a year or two he held the position of clerk in the State Department. Leaving Richmond he proceeded to Canada as private secretary to Clement C. Clay, one of

Jeff Davis' emissaries. BOTH AND HIS ENGAGEMENT.-The Wash. ington correspondent of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, in alluding to the denial of the engagement between J. Wilkes Booth and the daughter of Senator Hales, says: There is positive evidence of its truth; but this evidence is in private letters, which can-not be used. But it cannot be denied, he adds, that Booth was very intimate with the wives and daughters of prominent Republi-can Senators and Representatives at the Nav ional Hotel last winter.

PETERBORO, April 24, 1865. resident Johnson; Honored And Dear Sir-Only ten days ago and the country felt-sure of an immediate peace. The only apprehension was that its terms would be easier than it was prudent to grant. To-day, there is a strong and wide spread fear that peace is afar off. Whence this great change? It comes from the assassination of Abraham Lincoln and from you taking his place.

While Mr. Lincoln was yet alive, the Government was incessanely called on by presses President Johnson to Occupy Gen. Sherman's Headquarters at Alex-

No wonder, then, that the manner of his death is The Arrest of Conspirators in to look after the welfare of the refugees there Subscriptions to Purchase a Farm Geld Closed at Gallagher's 142 3-4,

I referred, at the beginning of my letter, to the apprehension that peace, which, only a few days ago, seemed so very near, is now quite remote. I can not doubt that it is, if the severe policy toward the conquered rebels, which so many are calling for, shall be adopted. In that event, hardly in my day, adopted. In that event, hardly in my day, or even in yours, will pace return to our afflicted country. For, once let it be known that the leading rebels, who shall fall into our hands, will be doomed to punishment—be it death, imprisonment or exile—and immediately, among their followers, sympathy with them and rage against us will know no bounds. Tens of thousands will burn with vengeance, and will care for nothing but to gratify it. This will be true, as well of persons under parole as of others. In that state of things a guerrilla warfare would ensue, which, if not pacified by concessions, and such concessions, too, as would fatally invade national and human rights, might run through many years, harassing and wasting to the merits of their beloved martyr.

The individual subscriptions are not to exceed $500. The money is to be paid to J. Cooke & Co. and will be publicly reported. The fund is to be disposed of by Senator Harlan, Secretary of the Interior, and J. H. Barrett, Commissioner of Pensions. It is supposed that subscriptions for this object will be taken up in the churches throughout the country, with the name of the donor on a slip of paper accompanying the amount. national and human rights, might run through many years, harassing and wasting our armies, and adding fearfully, if not fatally, to our already wast debt. It must not be forgotten that it cost our nation many years, many lives, and thirty or forty millions of dollars to put an end to the guerrilla war carried on in Florida by a handful of Indians and negroes. Nor must it be forgotten that the hundred thousand Dominicans are just now enjoying a countries and The Mexican recruiting agents advertise openly in to-day's Chronicle for discharged officers and men to emigrate to Mexico.

Rome, like ourselves, was a mighty ration, but, though striving for it through many years, she was not able to schieve an entire conquest over the few Cantabrians. The bason of such cases is, that a people, however great should have no fidition. great, should beware of driving to despera-tion a people however small. It may be hoped that the negroes of the South would stand in the way of this app.ehended guerrilla warfare. A part might; but the remainder, identifying it with justice and mercy, might hasten to identify themselves with it. Moreover, if our government shall be guilty of what seems to be bad faith or cruelty toward the conquered rebels, would there not be a disaffection at the North far more alarming than that hither.

the North far more alarming than that hither-to manifested? In a word, would not the government thereby make an enemy of the Sout and an enemy of the North also? I have glanced at the painful consequences of a harsh and unfair treatment of our conquered enemy. But how blessed would be the consequences of a wise and kind treatment of tast enemy. Then the South would be at peace with the North; would soon learn to like her, and would soon welcome the tens of thousands of families that would immediately. thousands of families that would imme diately begin to emigrate from the North to the South. Then the North and the South (slavery having passed away) would rapidly become one in interest, and one also in character. Moreover, the whole world would be bles by the termination of this horrid war in a peace so full of reason, justice and love. Chris-ulantly would be honored and advanced by a peace made so strikingly in her own spirit. In that spirit we cannot shed one drop of the blood of our subdued foe. The Missouri Republican gives the folowing account of queer military orders in

Missouri:

A Major Davis, in command at Lexington, Mo., a short time since, issued an order compelling the elergy there to pray according to his instructions, and threatened them with imprisonment if they did not. More recently he says it is understood that "rebel families in Lafayette county" have been threatening their negroes with bushwhackers if they did not work. Whereupon the Major issues another order, stating that "such threats will be taken as sufficient evidence of their complicity with bushwhackers," and that the persons making them "will be tried upon charges of consorting with bushwhackers and of being accessories to murder."
